LEAGUE RECONVENING IS FAVORED BY LAVAL

Reports State French Premier Hopes for Peace From League Actions.

GENEVA, Oct. 24.—(P)—Reports reached Geneva tonight that Premier Laval, of France, pressed by Premier Mussolini, of Italy, favors the reconvening of the League of Nations' peace committee of five.

That committee deafted a plan for peace committee of five.

That committee drafted a plan for Italo-Ethiopian peace under which Italy would have received a predominant economic influence in Ethiopia, but Il Duce turned it down.

Today, as the Union of South Africa became the first nation to pledge enforcement of all sanctions recommendforcement of all sanctions recommend-ed by the League, Geneva observers predicted the date for an air-tight boy-cott of Italy's wares would be consid-erably postponed if serious peace par-leys are sighted.

Traveling 'Still Fails

To Pass in Night STOCKBRIDGE, Ga., Oct. 24.—
(P)—A little open truck was clattering along the road and Sheriff D. D. Hightower and his two federal officer companions pulled over to let it pass—then they halted it. On the truck sat all this, in plain view.

One 100-gallon still. One 30-gallon doubler.
One 60-gallon steamer
One 300-gallon box fermenter. Two barrel fermenters.

One 5-gallon jug.
Five 1-gallon tins.
And all of it, the officers told
United States Commissioner E. S: Griffith today, smelled strongly of recently fermented liquor.
The driver was held under $500 reason why good time should not be allowed for the entire period, both that portion served in jail and that served in the penitentiary.

"Section 710 of Title 18 U. S. C. A. gives to 'each person who has been or shall hereafter be convicted of any offense against the laws of the United States, and is confined, in execution of the judgment or sentence upon any such conviction, in any United States penitentiary or jail, etc., a definite allowance of good time, if earned, as a matter of right and not as a matter of grace. I know of no law which takes away this right with respect to time served in a jail or prevents its allowance when earned. The evidence clearly shows, and respondent does not contead to the contrary, that petitioner's conduct has been exemplary both during the time spent in jail and in the penitentiary, and that he has never been guilty of any conduct which could forfeit his right to good time. The evidence further shows conclusively that, with the allowance of good time provided by law, computed for both the time spent in jail and in the penitentiary, petitioner was entitled to be discharged on October 19, 1935. This being true he should, in my opinion, be immediately discharged."

the Italian army is news. It didn't happen, but it almost did, says J. Prince Webster, prominent Atlanta attorney, who has just returned from a Mediterranean tour, which includes Italy.

Webster had the unique experience of being arrested in Florence for not drilling with the Italian troops after bells and sirens had called the male population of the city to their allotted places on mobilization day.

Benito Mussolini is "the tops" in Italy, says Webster. Placards bearing the picture of Il Duce are plastered all over Italy, he declared.

Italy's gigantic war preparations

Italy's gigantic war preparations took a lot of money but the source of it is no secret to Webster now. It all comes from taxes, he averred, with taxes on everything. But the heaviest levies are directed against the tourist, whose hotel and transportation bills are the greatest victims of taxes on. The attention tims of taxation. The attorney de-clared that he enjoyed the trip very much, but is glad to get back to his own country and his own taxes.

One order to your grocer brings everything for this marvelous low-cost meal. Complete with printed, easy directions. Wonderfully quick to make with the special buckwheat blend that guarantees far more fluffiness.

YEARS ago—way down in Dixie— Aunt Jemima's pancakes were the talk of the Old South. And they're all the rage today—wherever people love good food. What pancakes they are! It's easy for you to get them light andwell-done because Aunt Jemima's special pancake blend guarantees far more fluffiness than ordinary bread or biscuit flour. For Aunt Jemima's contains only about half the amount of gluten of ordinary flour. And glu-ten is the taffy-like substance in flour that resists heat and slows up the baking process.

That's why, with about half the gluten of ordinary flour, Aunt Jemima's pancakes come out so perfectly done, so tender, fluffy and light in the few short minutes pancakes are on the fire. And note this, ladies, a stack of three Aunt Jemima pancakes, a square of butter and 14 ounces of syrup are only 365 calories. Yet standard diets permit a total of 2,000 to 4,000 calories in the three daily meals.

Possessing far less glamour than the legendary gangster, he nevertheless more perfectly epitomizes the modern big-time racketeer than any of his more colorful predecessors.

A humble burglar and saloon stumblebum at the beginning of his career, Schultz, never acquired the extravagant gestures and blatant prosperity of other gangsters after his rise to power. He drank little, seldom gambled and had a strong dislike for physical violence. He was of medium height, blond and round-faced, and extremely untidy and ill-fit as far as his clothes were concerned. With advent of prohibition, Schultz was a hanger-on at the notorious 168th street speakeasy of John Noe and Fats McCarthy, both of whom subsequently died violently. Among the other ambitious youngsters who drank there were Legs Diamond, Vincent and Pete Coll, and Joe Rao, all now dead.

Taking over the speakeasy of Noe after he had been murdered, Schultz began to cast envious eyes on the wholesale beer business in the Bronx—then being pioneered by the Rock brothers. John Rock heeded warnings and retired but Joe Rock hung on to Fearing the troublesome brothers Coll, he hired them. They shortly branched out for themselves, however, and when Pete was mysteriously riddled with bullets, Vincent, later known as the "mad dog" and "baby slayer," declared war on Schultz.

The "Dutchman" was so worried by Coll's open threats he quit drinking entirely and disappeared from public view. Coll, however, although his

Architect, Commissioner Discuss New Home JUVENILE HOME FUND TO BE RELEASED SOON

Architects Named for $87,-000 WPA Project by County Commission.

WPA funds for Fulton county's new juvenile detention home will be officially released within the next few days, Dr. Charles R. Adams, chairman of the county commission, has been informed.

The new home, to be constructed on property owned by the county in the courthouse square, will cost approximately $87,000, of which the county will be required to furnish about $25,000.

The firm of Burge & Stevens has been awarded the contract for the architecture of the new home, Dr. Adams announced.

The commission chairman and Architect F. D. Burge yesterday inspected the grounds where the building will be constructed.

The project, which has already received approval from Washington, is awaiting formal announcement of the appropriation of money by WPA officials, it was said.

Judge Garland M. Watkins, judge of the Fulton juvenile court, said yes-terday that the new building will con-tain the most modern advantages of juvenile detention.

Quarters for proper segregation of delinquents and dependents of both sexes and colors will be provided and recreational space will be included.
Work on the home will start within seven days after the appropriation is announced, it was said. It was understood that the old home, which was abandoned by Judge

The Governor has given assurance before the state would be operated as at present but has not revealed a definite plan. It is generally understood he plans to invoke martial law.

"The state will be out of debt completely when I leave office," the Governor concluded in his statement to Powell.

(But the civilized way to combat "PINK TOOTH BRUSH" is IPANA and MASSAGE)

"SHOCKING!" burst from a society leader. And she was shocked at this picture. Emphatically. Just as you'd be shocked by such conduct at your dinner table.

But modern dentistry disagrees sharply! "Shocking?" would respond your own dentist. "That picture's not shocking. It's splendid. Any dentist will point out the scientific lesson it teaches - the proper way to use the teeth and gums. If more people today would only chew their food as vigorously, as energetically as this girl there'd be a lot less gum troubles

It's only too true. Today we all eat soft foods.

They're delicious, yes. But they rob our gums of health-giving work. And without regular exercise, gums become lazy . . . weak . . . tender. It's no wonder "pink tooth brush"—a cry for help from ailing gums - appears so often.

"Pink Tooth Brush" is a Warning

"Pink tooth brush" is a definite warning that your gums are in an unhealthy condition. And ignored, pink tooth brush" may swing the door wide open to gingivitis, Vincent's disease, even pyorrhea.

Be reasonable. Take care of your teeth and gums the way modern dental science urges - with Ipana and massage. Each time you clean your teeth massage a little extra Ipana into your gums. Feel those lazy gums wake up. Feel that fresh tingle as new circulation speeds through them. And soon you'll see—and feel—a new, healthy firmness to your gums.

Start with Ipana plus massage today. For Ipana is especially designed to help combat "pink tooth brush" .. to help keep gums healthy and firm . . . to help keep teeth bright . . . to give your smile the brilliant and likeable sparkle you so want it to have.

IPANA plus massage is the dentist's ablest assistant in the home care of the teeth and gums.

For that reason there is considerable wonder whether the heads of a few left-wingers may be about to fall.

The local street car line here is a subsidiary of North American, one of the largest of utility holding companies. For the past week, while the Securities and Exchange Commission has been trying to draw up holding company regulations, the street car company has been laying new tracks outside in the street.

The First Essential in Doing Good Work Is To Keep Yourself Fit To Do It BY ROBERT QUILLEN.

Nature makes careful plans to preserve the species, but cares nothing or the individual. She destroys the weak to keep the race strong. Her efficiency is coldly and impersonally heartless.

To make their race stronger and more intelligent, they would stop the mating of the weak, the unfit and the mentally defective. To relieve themselves of burdens that handicap the fit, they would find a quick and painless way to dispose of the useless and the trouble-

As we are now, the mere suggestion of such "efficiency" horrifles us. We are too tender-hearted to improve the race by that process.

But unfortunately our tender-heartedness, like the good intentions of the simple, often does more harm than good. We parole a poor misguided criminal and thus endanger the lives and property of the inno-cent. We refuse to deprive the defective of his right to mate, and his

and that is bad health or advanced PRISON LAWYER LOSES EMPLOYMENT LEVEL

EMPLOYMENT LEVEL
HITS FIVE-YEAR HIGH
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(P)—A
September advance in private industrial employment to the highest level in five years was reported tonight by Secretary Perkins.
She said factory pay rolls kept nearly apace in listing these figures:
Approximately 350,000 workers returned to wage-paying jobs in September, as compared with August's 155,000 gain. Weekly pay rolls for both manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries advanced more than life of him he can't see where he has violated a single rule.

They called him into the warden's office one day, he said, and the conversation ran like this:

"Did you write a mandamus for another prisoner?"

"I did."

"Did you write writs for several other prisoners?"

"I did."

"Why did you do it?"

"They told me they couldn't write and asked me to do it for them."

"Was Called Shyster." turing industries advanced more than string industries advanced more than $12,000,000 over August.

"The major portion of this gain of over a third of a million workers," Miss Perkins said, "was in manufacturing industries and retail trade, approximately 150,000 additional workers being employed in each of these fields."

"Was Called Shyster."

The labor secretary also reported substantial increases in anthracite and bituminous coal mining, building construction and the wholesale trade. "Now your petitioner was called a shyster and ordered locked up. Your petitioner shows that he is not a shyster for a shyster is a crooked lawyer and your petitioner is only a full-blooded Americant who believes in the callen rule. Did not the law of atruction and the wholesale trade.
The increase of 2.2 per cent in factory employment brought the department's preliminary September index to 83.6, the highest recorded since November, 1930. The increase of 3.6 per cent in factory pay rolls raised the month's index to 72.1, the highest since May, 1931.
Miss Perkins emphasized that while September gains are not unusual, they the golden rule. Did not the law of Moses provide for us to help one an-other?
"Your petitioner was only helping those that has not enough education to help themselves and in many cases it is our own government fault for not providing schools for them.

Miss Perkins emphasized that while September gains are not unusual, they were recorded last month in the face of a sharp decline in employment in the automobile industry, where the introduction of new models resulted in a cut in the number of workers. Eighteen other industries, including beverages, cane sugar refining, cement and locomotives, also showed employment declines. "Then when some mountain court railroads them to prison and some fellowman happens to want to help them, knowing these conditions, the fellow man who believes in the golden rule and the Law of Moses and the constitution is to be placed in solitary confinement which is in conflict with our American principle of laws."

Messes these dewards that Warden ment declines.

The National Weekly Poll of Public Opinion

RANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT polled 59% of the combined Democratic-Republican vote in November, 1932, scored a smashing victory over Herbert Clark Hoover, and has been the center of praise and criticism ever since.

But—what is America saying about the President now? Has he been going up or going down in popular favor since the early days of the NRA? How does he stand today? In which sections of the country is he strongest? When was he at the height of his popularity? When at the lowest point?

The American Institute of Public Opinion will answer these and similar questions next Sunday in a page featuring the "National Political Barometer," which measures and records the standing of the two major parties.

Next Sunday's discussion of the President's current standing with the nation's voters is one of a regular weekly series of reports in the new department: AMERICA SPEAKS, the National Weekly Poll of Public Opinion. In Atlanta AMERICA SPEAKS will appear next Sunday and on succeeding Sundays exclusively in The Constitution.

Thousands of ballots and personal interviews gathered by the American Institute of Public Opinion are revealing certain trends in Mr. Roosevelt's popularity. His present standing will be compared with what it was when he took office and what it has been each month since February, 1934.

Ballots are sent to voters the country over; every state in the nation receives its proper allotment in proportion to its population. Every class of voters is represented—bankers, farmers, lawyers, laborers, housewives, mechanics, retailers.

The American Institute of Public Opinion is a non-partisan fact-finding organization, releasing the results of these weekly polls to a select group of newspapers of every shade of political belief—Republican, Democratic, and Independent—which print these articles simultaneously.

Look for Franklin D. Roosevelt's Present "batting average."

BOSTON, Oct. 24.-(P)-The old stork" fairy tale about the way babies ome into the world doesn't deserve consideration nowadays, says Miss Mary Ella Chayer, instructor in nursing education, Columbia University.

Mary Ena Chaper, ing education, Columbia University.

Miss Chayer, speaking at a meeting of the school nurses section of the Massachusetts organization for public health nursing, said "It is unfortunate we have so insulted the intelligence and credulity of children. Above all, we must respect the child's intelligence.

all, we must respect the child's intelligence.

"We have expected him to understand and to believe that an indeterminate bird appears in the night and drops a bundle down a chimney; or that the doctor keeps in his bag babies ready to be delivered to homes. We need a better understanding of child life and we need to take advantage of this knowledge on giving greater meaning to that life."

Noting the spirit of inquiry in the child, Miss Chayer said "We can, if we will, make romance out of the com-

Richard Halliburton Contributes Royal Scoop to Sally Forth Jerome T. Ragsdale

By Sally Forth.

SALLY has had a break! In fact, a whole series of breaks! First she was invited to Colonel Fred Paxon's luncheon yesterday for Richard Halliburton, who seems to be a favorite in Atlanta as well as traveler, there isn't any place he hasn't been. So that makes Halliburton favoritism practically unanimous, doesn't it?

The second break was a second

The second break was a scoop—a royal scoop, if you please—contributed by Mr. Halliburton. Sally has his word for it that no newspaper reporter had ever heard it before yesterday. That makes it a bona fide scoop. And a break of the first magnitude!

It has to do with Mr. Halliburton's visit last May to Ethiopia. He was there as a reporter and was invited to dine one evening at the fields resulted in the latter lending their lovely home for the

The bride will wear the handsome wedding dress of Mrs. Alfred Thompson, who was Evelyn Sheffield until two years ago. The bridal ensemble will be completed by the exquisite Venetian rose point veil belonging to Mrs. Charles Winship and worn by her as Juliett Crenshaw when she became a bride. Even the satin slippers were offered the fair Elizabeth to wear, but she decided that this article of her ar-ray would be the "something new." She will wear a blue for-get-me-not in the heel of her slipper.

But Elizabeth confided to Sally that one important part of the wedding certainly will not come under the category of "bor-rowed," in that the handsome royal palace. At dinner, he was seated between the king and queen, with their beautiful young daughter only a few places away. A splendid dinner was served by their French chef, and accom-panied by a very fine French champagne. In fact, the king and his guest shared a bottle which between them and which contributed greatly to the delightful informality of the occasion, finally overcoming entirely any imaginary barrier that might have existed between the two.

Following dinner, the feminine guests withdrew with the queen, and the king, under the cordial influence of the wine, grew very It seems that even king, whe .: slightly "in his cups," can become confidential.

He produced a map of Ethiopia that had been made in Rome, Italy. And would you believe it, all the northern provinces were indicated as Italian Everyone of those provinces like Eritrea. Somaliland and Tigre, that you have become so familiar with in the last few weeks, had been appropriated by Italy, according to that map. Now that, mind you, was last May, several months before the relations between that country and Ethiopia had become one of open warfare.

That map, explained the king, had served to put him on his guard, so to speak. He knew, of course, that Mussolini had designs on his territory, but he did not know that to Italy the conquest was already as good as Immediately the king took action. He sent emissaries into the farthermost corners of his domain to advise his subjects to mobilize, to arm and prepare for war. As you know, there are no good roads in Ethiopia, and scarcely any railroads. Messengers must be sent by donkey or afoot, and it takes a long time to reach the outlying districts in that tropical land. But the king was diligent. And he had time to act-thanks to the map.

The result was that Ethiopia became united. For 3,000 years her many provinces had been a disjointed, ununited kingdom. "The common threat of war served to bring them together as a unit, something I would never have accomplished alone," said the king, "and I owe it all to Mussolini."

"By this time, the bottle of champagne had almost been finished," said Mr. Halliburton. "The inebriating influence was at its height and the king was feeling the warm glow of its ex-hilaration. Draining the last dregs into his glass, he arose to the full height of his less than average stature and proposed a toast to Mussolini—a toast in champagne to the gentleman who had unwittingly united the kingdom of Ethiopia."

A group of prominent Atlanta meet Mr. Halliburton at the beautifully appointed luncheon which was given in Davison-Paxon's tearoom. And that proved another break for Sally!

ELIZABETH IRWIN will live up L to the traditional bridal adage of wearing "something old, something new, something bor-rowed and something blue," with emphasis on the borrowed. Her wedding to MacGregor Flanders takes place this afternoon at Green Acres, the Johnson Ferry road residence of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Sheffield Jr. In the first place, the fast friendship existing between Elizabeth and the Shef-

Editor's Note: Mrs. Fletcher Pearson Crown, author of "Fall Garden Notes," published daily in The Atlanta Constitution, will conduct the garden achool to be given under the auspices of The Constitution on October 29, 30, 31, and November 1, from 10 to 11:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Atlanta Woman's Club on Peachtree street. Mrs. Crown is an authority on horticulture and an originator of the garden school idea. Her program will include excellent new material and features, and The Constitution will spare no expense to make the classes well worth the attention of every garden-minded Atlantan and Georgian. There will be no charge of admission to the school.

But either course of reasoning will produce a poor garden and an expensive one. While the gardener who says, "I will grow everything that I can grow, which is beautiful and fills a place in my garden," she is on the way to a garden of satisfaction and economy.

The mainstay of the all summer succession of bloom are the perennials. From April almost to July, they and the bulbs give us a host of flowers. Even after the annuals appear the perennials continue to furnish the dominant flowers of our gardens. Their value to the garden is therefore enormous and few of us ever have enough of them.

In most of these devices the players use buttons to show what they bid In most of these devices the players rush buttons to show what they bid and a light flashes on the table in front of them, allowing the other play-ers to read, rather than to hear, the bids they have made. Regardless of bids they have made. Regardless of the ingenuity of these inventions, I give them no more than a passing glance. I am firmly convinced that the human race, deprived of its right to vociferous self-expression, would wither and fade. No form of amuse-ment could obtain and hold the enor-mous popularity of contract bridge unless it evoked cheers and groans, ecstasy and anguish.

Let anyone who questions this opinion cast his judicial eye on chess, which certainly is one of the finest purely intellectual games extant. Compare its popularity not only to bridge but to many other card games. To point out the intricacy of chess is a footless argument. Man dotes on prob-lems, which accounts for the ancient and world-wide popularity of chess, a popularity limited largely by the quiet and peacefulness which attend chess games.

And now that I have openly declared for the joys of strife, I find myself suddenly assailed by doubts and fears. I think of the newspaper accounts of murder over the bridge table, and of I think of the newspaper accounts of murder over the bridge table, and of the divorces and estrangements attributed directly to bridge. I am reminded, unpleasantly, of the violet-scented letter I received not long ago from a woman who begged me to decide whether she or her husband was right on the bidding of a hand, and thus avert "what looked like a definite break-up of her home." I amnot yet sure whether I was a craven or a diplomat to rush the reply, "You're both wrong!"

Legitimate Deceit.

The 4-5 no-trump slam convention is almost universally used to make sure, before bidding a slam, that two partners hold as many aces and kings as they need. The slam try bid of four no-trump guarantees two aces and the king of some suit previously bid by either partner. This bid also may be made with three aces. A response of five no-trump to partners' for there sponse of five no-trump to partner's four no-trump bid shows the other two aces. Almost never should a player dare to make either of these bids without the exact requirements securely held in his hand. Yet, on the hand below, a player bid four notrump with only one ace, and this hand proves to be an exception to the

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: As dealer, should I bid or pass, holding:

Spades 9 6 3, hearts K J 10, diamonds K Q J 8 3, clubs 7 2?

Answer: A pass is preferred. Although the hand contains 2 1-2 honor tricks and a rebiddable five-card suit a pass is optional when holding the minimum requirements, and it is best not to open a minimum hand which does not contain an ace. does not contain an ace.

TOMORROW'S HAND. South, dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's article.

A Fine Lipstick in a Very

Beautiful Jeweled Container

By MIGNON.

What women want is a lipstick that will last so that they will not have to be running to a mirror constantly, putting on more lip rouge, and the market one of her finest lipsticks in the prettiest case I have yet seen. In the first place, it is in exquisite good taste, the usual round lipstick size, plain ivory and around the top is a colored line which you discover is made of minute jewels in four colors. They are emerald, ruby, diamond and sapphire. If the jewels do not match your evening bag one of the shades certainly will go with it.

The lipstick itself lasts well and has enough oil in it to spread smoothly. I don't talk about indelible lipsticks because they are like permanent waves—there isn't any such animal. heard a woman in a beauty parlor one day say that she had had 10 permanent waves and unquestionably she had had only one life, so, you can ise that there isn't much in a name.

North anxious to learn whether or not South had the major suit ace, bid four no-trump, known wing that with these two aces South must respond five no trump because he held the other two missing aces. East's opening lead of the diamond ace was trumped by North, who drew trumps and discarded his losing hearts on the spade suit in South's hand, making the grand slam.

BERLIN. Oct. 24.—(P)—Informed sources said tonight a French journalist who has acted in the past for Premier Pierre Laval had attempted without success to draw out Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler on some of the complications facing Europe as a result of the Italo-Ethiopian war.

Hitler, the foreign office let it be known, will continue to thread the middle of the road, remaining stone cold to the wooing of either the League of Nations or of Italy. Cermand de Brinon, Parisian jour

It is rather striking that psychologists, philosophers, poets, novelists have reasoned and written about jealousy. They have defined it, described it, analyzed it, commented on it but none of them has prescribed the cure or named the antidote for the poison with which it permeates the patient. Solomon said jealousy was as cruel as the grave. Hannah Moore called it the ugliest fiend of helf. Shakespeare commented that it was a monster which mocked that meat it fed upon. George Eliot remarked that jealous persons were never satisfied with anything less than being able to read the subtlest thought of the loved one's mind—which means of course that the jealous person can never be satisfied.

The whole nervous system is excited to such a pitch that normal work, play and sleep are out of the question. Like a captured and tortured animal in a cage, around goes the mind maddened by jealousy if it is convinced that the insanities it has conjured up are real and rational.

THE SHIRTWAIST DRESS, WITH

Now if these symptoms, physical and mental, are not enough to wring pity, rather than reproach, from menand women who are married to jealous mates, then what could arouse their pity? A woman dealing with a jealous man is pretty apt to make an adjustment that eases her situation. She is somewhat flattered by his jealousy and takes it as evidence of his deep devotion. She sees him safely through one attack and believes, as he does, that it will be the last. But the normal man married to the jealous wife is not so clever or so kind. He is naturally annoyed with her if he is innocent or guilty, of offense. He can't forgive anybody for taking leave of common sense. Because he can reason himself out of any vagary he believes that a sane woman can do likewise. He hasn't the slighest conception of her anguish. He sees in her only an unreasonable irrational, irritating female. We laugh at the little child jeal-ous of the new baby that takes his place in the mother's arms. We laugh at the lover who paces the floor while his girl dates some rival. We laugh at the wife who can't hear the conversation of the person next to her because she is strain-ing to hear what her husband is saying to the woman across the room. We laugh at them and we are taking our fun at the expense of an anguish we have not experi-enced and cannot fully understand.

No, jealousy is not a contemptible trait of character—it is a pitiable affliction, a congenital disease for which there is no cure, and the afflicted ones should be treated with kindness, with sympathy and tenderness by their

The coach continued to stress pass defense this afternoon. The varsity drilled extensively on this phase of play. Later they tried a flurry of aerial thrusts in a scrimmage and were shown up well on the whole. Mehre evidently believes that a good pass offense and defense is the route to victory over the Alabama team as this phase of play has occupied much time this week.

Alabama's football team rides into our town today, pausing here overnight before going on to Athens and the game with Georgia on Saturday.

And while it is scant courtesy to the guest within our gates, must emerge with the modest prediction that Georgia will win from Alabama on the afternoon of Saturday.

This isn't nearly as strong as the tip on Duke to beat Georgia Tech. That was a strong one. I was one of the army of those who knew the Wade machine would win. Yet we witnesed the football miracle of Tech winning.

Duke had won the previous year by a 20-to-0 score. Duke had returned a veteran team. Tech was playing seven sophomores who had taken a beating the week before at Kentucky.

There was every reason to pick Duke. None to pick Tech. Yet Tech outplayed Duke from the opening whistle and should have won by three touchdowns, All of which proves that this is a cockeyed football season and that well-bred children do not like spinach. Look at the Alabama and Georgia football assets: Georgia has most of them. Which is to say, more reserves.

That is important. And more speed. That, too, is important. The kicking, passing and the lines appear about

But the edge is with Georgia.

Georgia hasn't been defeated. Only one touchdown has been scored against them.

Alabama will be wondering if they will go to bits as they against Howard and Mississippi State. Georgia has more incentive to win.

It's about time Georgia won one from Alabama. And this is the last of the series. The law of averages, a rather powerful ally when he feels like working, should be with Georgia. This time last week I would have bet you all the long flannel nightgowns in Haile Selassie's wardrobe that all Tech could do was make a gallant fight against Duke. This week I am not nearly so confident. Which may be a good sign.

At any rate, I like the Bulldogs to win this one.

GEORGIA'S FIRST PEAK. You see, Georgia is to play a team which has been tied

And Georgia hasn't as yet been keyed up for a game—hasn't been pushed to win any one of the four

Alabama has had some bitter struggles—and lost. This is Georgia's great opportunity.

Yet the thing cuts back the other way. If Georgia hasn't played a tough game they may lack the drive to beat a team which has been through the fire as has Alabama. There is that angle to consider.

All of which will drive you daffy in a very great hurry if you try to figure it.

The facts are, two good teams are going to play. Neither seems to have a real advantage. There is no real favorite. It is quite possible the team which wins will win by a wide margin. If one team gets the jump it will score quite a few touchdowns. Because there is offensive strength on each eleven. But I like the Bulldogs. To pull this one out with a great display of speed and daring and win from a great team, which Alabama has this year.

NO MORE WEAKLINGS. There are no more real weaklings in football.

The lateral and the forward pass attacks are the

With them Georgia Tech moved out last night for Chapel Hill, where on Saturday they meet the highly favored North Carolina team.

The Tech sophomores are due to lose by a touchdown or two. Yet they may win. The dope means less than nothing in these days of fast, skilled football material which seems to be distributed rather generally.

Tech's eleven certainly believes it is going to win. If North Carolina should take them it will come under the heading of a surprise party. They know the dope is against them. But that is an old story with them. The Jackets are thumbing a disrespectful gesture toward the Tarheels. They will be out there to win. And such are the possibilities of modern football they may do it.

AUBURN'S GREAT CHANCE.

Auburn's team meets Duke today at Durham.

And there is a well-established idea around our town that Jack Meagher's Tigers will beat Duke. That idea is based, of course, on the play which Duke showed

On the basis of that one game Duke had been badly overrated and Tech was badly under-rated. Only subsequent games will determine the real status. It is a pop-eyed world in which we live. But a very

On Weber's Card

A fine supporting card has, been arranged by Matchmaker Henry Weber for his wrestling program which includes Cham-pion Danno O'Mahony Wednes-day night at the city audito-rium day night at the city auditorium.

Rudy Strongberg, the giant German, and Sol Slagel, the double-Jointed Jewish star, meet in the one-hour semi-windup.
The 30-minute opener will bring together Bob Wagner and Whitey Grovo, who last year played with the Detroit Tigers, professional football team.
Grovo comes here highly recommended, as does Wagner.
O'Mahony is, of course, to meet Dick Daviscourt, the rough veteran, in a best two-out-of-three falls match.
Tickets, with the exception of the balcony, are now on sale at the Piedmont Hatters. Balcony seats go on sale Wednesday morning.
Ladies will not be admitted free for this card, owing to the great expense incurred in bringing the Irish champion back to Atlanta.

Rating System Gives Georgia

A Victory and Tech a Defeat The Georgia Bulldogs will beat Alabama, Georgia Tech will lose to North Carolina, Auburn is favored over Duke, with a tie possible, and Louisiana State University will take Vanderbilt in the week-end grid games, according to the Williamson system of rating and predictions. Georgia, with a rating of 89.8 and a ranking of tenth in the nation, meets Alabama, with a rating of 76.9. The Bulldogs are liked in this game, with no strings attached. Nobody Knows How Good Tech is rated well below North Carolina, having a rating of 67.6, while the Tarheels are rated 88.0, just below Georgia. The Williamson system sees a loss for the Jackets, who upset Duke's Blue Devils last week.

The system sees no worse than a tie for Auburn's strong eleven against Duke. And, at the same time, it is predicted that Vanderbilt's unbeaten eleven will suffer its first conference loss against L. S. U., unbeaten in the Southeastern.

Purples Show Plenty of Power in Crushing Foes, 26-7, Before Large Crowd.

Boys' High virtually cinched its second Georgia prep championship vith a 26-to-7 victory over Riverside Military Academy Thursday night at Ponce de Leon park.

A crowd of more than 7,500, the largest of the prep season thus far, saw one of the most exciting games played here this year.

They saw some fancy passing. It was forwards, laterals and long forward passes which paved the way to victory. Two of the Purples' touchdowns resulted from forward passes well over 40 yards. Another came from a short end run and another resulted from a double lateral, Riverside was not completely outclassed as the score might indicate and fought a great battle, but the Cadets were unable to cope with the long passes and those laterals.

It was the Purples' seventh straight victory this year and the 21st out of the last 22 played.

Boys' High scored first near the end of the opening quarter when Captain Ben Ehrlich took a lateral from Billy Massengale and ran 57 yards to a touchdown. This play saw some excellent blocking and it was Gene Ransom, right end, who blocked out Riverside's safety man on the 5-yard line for Ehrlich as he scored.

Neither team threatened to score in the early part of the second quarter until Billy Mims passed 42 yards into the waiting arms of Roberts for the touchdown. Roberts caught the ball about the 7-yard line and ran across unmolested. He was behind the Riverside safety man when he caught the ball.

Riverside fought back hard and put on a sustained drive of 63 yards to score late in the second quarter. The Cadets received the kickoff on their own 37-yard line and scored without losing the ball. Two 11-yard passes, Van Thompson to Little and Van Thompson to Driver, were the longest gains of the drive.

Two Remaining Unbeaten Conference Teams Given Edge; Week End of Battles Looms.

STILL THE CLOSE ONES COME. By P. B. Williamson.

Except for over a dozen startling results, which no system or nothing short of true prophecy could have foreseen, the Williamson chart last week ran well over 90 per cent according to form. This week's games are figured to run at least 85 per cent according to the ratings. The Williamson system keeps an ear to the ground all over the country through newspapers, interviews, correspondence, and special wires. Therefore, it is currently known that the ratings must not be followed too blindly for some games. Last week the system hit the nail squarely on the head on its predictions reversed against the ratings.

This week the following "reverses against the ratings" (	Symbol	"R")

Il Duce Withholds Peace Terms, Thwarts Overtures With France

PARIS, Oct. 24.—(P)—Premier
Mussolini, of Italy, the French foreign office announced tonight, has failed to advance "definite proposals for peace" in the discussions of his envoy with Premier Pierre Laval, of France.

Nevertheless, alleged Italian "terms" for cessation of hostilities in Africa have been published widely here. These have been said to include an international protectorate over the central Ethiopian provinces, an Italian protectorate over the remainder of the France.

That statement, coupled with a flat denial that M. Laval has passed along denial that M. Laval has passed along any Italian peace suggestions to Great Britain, confused the outlook for a set-tlement of Il Duce's war with Ethio-

Hearing these reports, Emperor Haile Selassie spurned any such solution in advance, and M. Laval himself, before the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies, said only yesterday France would seek only a compromise fully acceptable to the League of Nations. The Polo model overcoat of camel's Officials said the denial did not mean Mussolini has not made any suggestions whatsoever. But, they indicated, his exchange of views with M. Laval was intended to show his willingness to negotiate rather than to serve as a basis for actual negotiations.

About the only forecast that official sources would offer tonight was that Great Britain would wait until after the November 14 general elections the November 14 general elections to talk terms.

Just what M. Laval and Sir George Russell Clerk, the British ambassador, did talk about in their conference today remained a secret.

In official quarters the belief was expressed that reports "Italian suggestions" had been relayed to Great Britain were inspired by fascist sources to throw any responsibility for delay on the British.

Former Mayor of New York Declares He Is Through With Politics.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Oct 24.—Jimmy Walker, his chin held high and the old light of battle bright in his eyes, sailed for home aboard the S. S. Manhattan tonight ready and eager to face what he called one of the greatest ordeals of his stormy Career.

Thus he started back to Broadway Thus he started back to Broadway and the comeback trail brimming with health after his three-year "self-imposed exile" abroad, where he lived in a quaint old English cottage or visited continental spas.

A live, trim figure in a blue serge topcoat and a felt hat, New York's former mayor strode quickly through the crowded pier sheds with Mrs. Walker, the former Betty Compton, on his arm. France's internal affairs—notably the premier's new decree laws aimed at fascist-inclined organizations such as the Croix de Feu—shared the day's

Herriot's Withdrawal.

Edouard Herriot, minister of state, quit the debate in a congress of the powerful radical socialist party when leftists challenged the sincerity of the decrees. He returned later, however, Edouard Daladier, opening the debate, attacked Herriot as a supporter of the Laval government and said the decrees would be worthless in the face of "private mobilizations" like those of the Croix de Feu veterans.

The decree laws, effective today, the former mayor strode quickly through the crowded pier sheds with Mrs. Walker, the former Betty Compton, on his arm.

Walker buttoned his gray checked suit and swung around with a characteristic gesture before retorting:

"Since I have been in what? There isn't anything in exile about me.

Walker also declared his wife definition would not a beat to the stage.

Walker also declared his wife definitely would not go back to the stage. Then he added:
"But you'd better check that up with her. That's just what I remember she said. She says marriage is a 24-hour job and that she's through with the stage."
Mrs. Walker confirmed his remarks fully.

LIGHTNING DOES APPEAR

The DEBUNKER By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

The old expression, "like lightning from a clear sky," was intended to ex-press something impossible or unlike-ly, but it is neither impossible nor ly, but it is neither impossible nor uncommon for this to happen. Scientists have recorded many cases of lightning striking from a cloudless sky. At least one complete "thunderstorm" of this sort has been recorded, with hundreds of bolts of lightning out of clear sky. Such bolts usually make no sound, which proves that all lightning is not accompanied by thunder. (Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

When there was proper balance on the Great Scales, the god Thoth said:

"Listen to this! The heart has been weighed... and by the Great Balance, his case is just. No wrong has been found in him. He did not steal offerings from the temple. He did not harm people while he was on earth."

One copy of the Book of the Dead is known as the "Papyrus of Nebseni." It is 13 inches wide, and 77 feet and 7 inches long.

Another roll, the longest on record, is one and a half feet wide and 123 feet in length. It is called the British museum along with several other copies.

Then the god Horus led the spirit to Osiris, the king, and said, "His heart is true, and has come forth from the balance. It has no sin before any god or goddess... Let him be given bread and drink."

After this the spirit was believed to go to a place which had several names. It was known as "the Elysian Fields," "the Isles of the Blest," and "the Fields of Aalu." Another, and more geneval, name was "Kingdom of Osiris."

The writers did not agree as where the kingdom was located. very early times, it was said to in the Delta of the Nile river. Lat was placed far to the south, near headwaters of the Nile. The name who did not speak truly in the Hall of Truth were punished; but there was rich reward for others.

Crops were grown in the Kingdom of Osiris. We read that the stalks of wheat plants were eight feet high, and that the ears were three feet long! Barley plants also were of great size. There were canals and rivers, but there were no snakes in the water. The spirits could ride in boats which moved without being paddled.

The spirits played games, and lived an easy, pleasant life. They were never hungry or thirsty.

never hungry or thirsty.

There was some work to be done—plowing and sowing and reaping of grain; but if a person did not want to work at all, he hoped to have servants do his share. Some rich men in Egypt paid for the burial of servants, in the belief that the spirits of the servants might take care of their masters. Another method was to bury small statues of servants with the mummy of the master. Hundreds of such statues have been found in Egyptian graves.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24,-(A)-A steady to firm tone was maintained steady to firm tone was maintained by most sections of the domestic corporate bond market today in contrast to sagging tendencies in the government list.

Gains were most pronounced in the railroad division where there were many advances of 1 to 2 points among low-priced bonds, including issues of the New Haven which were in heavy demand all day. Although there were numerous defections, the majority of industrial and utility bonds worked fractionally higher and continued improvement among Italian loans was the central feature of the foreign section.

Government bonds were in supply from the beginning of trading, and while there was good scale-down buying reported from several quarters, it was not enough to absorb offerings.

Closing quotations were from 3-32ds to 8-32ds net lower with all classes of bonds participating in the decline. There was no news except unconfirmed rumors that the treasury might tembark on another "auction" program after a two-month layoff.

At the best prices of the day, the 12 active issues of New Haven bonds were 2 to 3 1-2 points higher, but final quotations were somewhat under the best. Other rail bonds keeping well up the front in the recovery movement included Delaware & Hudson 4s at 78 1-8; Erie 4s at 74; New York Ontario & Western 4s at 40 to 100 to 10

Closing quotations were from 3-32ds to 8-32ds net lower with all classes of bonds participating in the decline. There was no news except unconfirmed rumors that the treasury might embark on another "auction" program after a two-month layoff.

At the best prices of the day, the 12 active issues of New Haven bonds were 2 to 3 1-2 points higher, but final quotations were somewhat under the best. Other rail bonds keeping well up the front in the recovery movement included Delaware & Hudson 4s at 78 1-8; Erie 4s at 74; New York, Ontario & Western 4s at 40 and Western Maryland 4s at 96. "Katy" bonds sold off 1 to 2 points following the brisk advance of the past few days.

Movements elsewhere were orderly. Slightly higher prices were paid for Studebaker 6s, Postal Telegraph 5s, Paramount 6s, Consolidation Coal 5s and Laclede Gas 5 1-2s. Among the losers of small fractions were such issues as American Rolling Mill 4 1-4s, North American Edison 5 1-2s, Illinois Steel 4 1-2s and Penn Dixie 6s.

Advances among Italian bonds ranged from 1 5-8 points for Rome 6 1-2s to 2 3-4 for Milan 6 1-2s. The government 7s got up 1 3-4 at 65 under good demand. Further encouragement was given the entire foreign division by continued peace talk in Europe and a lull in hostilities on the African war front.

Transfers aggregated $15,006,000, par value compared with $14,793,000 to 2 3-4 for Milan 6 1-2s. The government 7s got up 1 3-4 at 05 under good demand. Further encouragement was given the entire foreign division by continued peace talk in Europe and Iull in hostilities on the African war front.  Transfers aggregated $15,006,000, par value, compared with $14,793,000 the day before. The Associated Press averages were unchanged to .2 of a point higher.  Market Outlook  By MAX BUCKINGHAM.  (Copyright, 1935, by United Press.)  NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(UP)—A bit of mystery was injected into the stock market late today when for no apparent reason the silver shares, dormant of late, came to life with substantial gains.  Rising silver shares were the more noticeable because of a decline in some of the recent favorites, such as motors. There were definite reasons for other strong spots. Oils responded to improved oil statistics and some good company reports. Rubber shares had some demand on oft-repeated talk of a tire price rise. Glass stocks again responded to improving outlook for that industry.  Meanwhile, rails sold off in belated response to the New Haven reorganization episode which failed to attract sellers yesterday. Autos met normal profit-taking after the recent rise. Utilities softened when Brooklyn Union Gas cut its quarterly dividend from $1.25 to 75 cents because of higher costs, higher taxes, and uncertainty over new legislation.  There was nothing in the news to favor the silvers. The New York price held at the same level it has had since August 26, namely 65 3-8 cents an ounce. London was steady, Meantime, a sharp break in the Shanghal dellar brought heavy silver unloading into the London market from Chinese sources. But this was all absorbed at the prevailing spot price by the United States Treasury Department.  Then essentially silver swas accompanied by better demand for copper shares. Superstitious traders hold that when the coppers begin to rise the stock market is nearing a setback. Today's behavior of the general list, however, was considered satisfactory. A look at the meter showed him that it was only a bare quarter full. He taxied the plane out upon the apron and was about to run up to the gas pump when a large car swerved in off the highway, cut a large are around the hangar and skidded to an abrupt stop on the concrete apon, its headlights shining on the black fuselage of the plane and reflecting back upon the car, pre-The quiet of evening had descended upon Westchester. With nightfall Buck left his post outside the hangar, where he had been sitting in the event that a potential customer, lured by the sign on the roof—"Kendrick Flying School. Hussons. Planes for Hire"—would come in off the concrete highway and desire a lesson, a ride or a plane for practice.

"I guess this will be license enough, buddy," the man said, making a significant motion with the coat. "Can you fly?" Buck further stalled. "I'd hate to have you crack up a lot of valuable equipment on the back fence there!"

"Never mind about that, buddy," the leader snapped, "I flew in the war. Now, is this crate ready to hop?" That's all I want to hear from you!" "All except for some gas," Buck told him. The last can poured in, two of the men scrambled into the cabin, while the third ordered Buck to place his back to the plane. The last thing Buck remembered was the increased

When he opened his eyes someone in uniform was rubbing his wrists and he was all wet where someone had thrown water upon him. A police had thrown water upon him. A police car stood outside the office and sev-eral officers were inspecting the ban-dit car.

"They'll be in the neighborhood, lieutenant." Buck grinned weakly as he gingerly felt of the bump on his head. "I filled her with those cans of distilled water, and she's run just as far as the gas in the carburetor and gas lines will take her!"

"Well, I'll be . . !" said the lieutenant simply.

"And I can give you a good description of them. There is a phone in the office you can use. And by the way, I've got a great little book in there I'd like to show you!" He grasped the officer's arm and led him into the office.
